

Dear Partners

March 2016

Effective April 1, 2016 we change our name to RODAN Technologies A/S.

For more than 30 years, we have built up a strong brand on the Danish market, and has been synonymous with "Coaxial Connectors", as representing and "sharing" name with worldwide known Rosenberger Hochfrequenz-Technik GmbH.

For more than two decades, we have specialized in custom cable assemblies, which are sold in more than 20 countries – an area of growth and globalization that has been the main reason for our change of name.

Beside Rosenbergers' comprehensive product range, we have marketed other brands of high-end interconnect solutions for many year, and this continues unchanged.

The name RODAN is short for Rosenberger Danmark – a name Rosenberger have called us, since our establishment in 1984. Please note that our VAT no., address, ownership and all other company registrations, remains the same.

Along with the new name, we launch a new homepage www.rodantech.com, which goes live April 1, in a "light" version.

If you have further questions, feel free to contact me.

Best regards
Rosenberger Danmark a/s
